Dear Families,

Thank you for all of your support, flexibility, and positivity during this time. I love seeing the pictures of your children embracing the distance learning over the past few days. I am proud of the work from our teachers and staff to implement and be able to offer a high-quality education from home with little loss of instructional time. Time and time again, they prove to be educational leaders in our community and state.

Spring Break starts next week. The students will not be receiving lessons. I am asking that the teachers and staff take a much-needed break. There are many fun things to do with your children while you are home. They are shared on our website. Thank you to the families who have made the difficult decision to cancel travel plans and stay home over spring break. These decisions not only keep your family safe; they also help keep our community safe.

My last communication had us going back to school on March 30th. However, with the new recommendations from the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and the changes from our local school districts, we will now plan on resuming school April 13th. That means students will continue distance learning the weeks of March 30th and April 6th. We want to support you as much as possible through all of this. Please reach out to our teachers, ambassadors, or me if there is anything we can do to help you.

Our goal is to keep families safe and continue to educate our students. Thank you for prayers and support. "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." (Phil. 4:13)

Sincerely,
Carina VanPelt M.Ed.
